Jobs

This page contains current job vacancies at our chair. Among these are open positions for research assistants (m/f/d) which generally provide the opportunity of achieving a PhD and are directed towards computer science graduates, graduates of electrical engineering or comparable studies. On the other hand, we will publish jobs for student assistants (Hiwi-Jobs).

Furthermore, there is a Mailing list, where we will announce new positions. You can also find more information about our projects here.

You can find information about theses here.
